Subject: Proposal for a Directive of the European Parliament and of the Council amending Directive 2014/65/EU to make public capital markets in the Union more attractive for companies and to facilitate access to capital for small and medium-sized enterprises and repealing Directive 2001/34/EC
Proposal for a Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council amending Regulations (EU) 2017/1129, (EU) No 596/2014 and (EU) No 600/2014 to make public capital markets in the Union more attractive for companies and to facilitate access to capital for small and medium-sized enterprises

Dear Ms TINAGLI,

Following the informal negotiations between the representatives of the three institutions, a draft overall compromise package was agreed today by the Permanent Representatives' Committee. I am therefore now in a position to confirm that, should the European Parliament adopt its position at first reading, in accordance with Article 294 paragraph 3 of the Treaty, in the form set out in the compromise package contained in the Annex to this letter (subject to revision by the legal linguists of both institutions), the Council would, in accordance with Article 294, paragraph 4 of the Treaty, approve the European Parliament's position and the act shall be adopted in the wording which corresponds to the European Parliament's position.

On behalf of the Council I also wish to thank you for your close cooperation which should enable us to reach agreement on this file at first reading.

Yours sincerely,

Willem van de VOORDE
Chair of the Permanent Representatives Committee

Proposal for a

DIRECTIVE OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL

amending Directive 2014/65/EU to make public capital markets in the Union more attractive for companies and to facilitate access to capital for small and medium-sized enterprises and repealing Directive 2001/34/EC

(Text with EEA relevance)

THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, and in particular Article 50, 53(1) and 114 thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the European Commission,

After transmission of the draft legislative act to the national parliaments,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Economic and Social Committee[1],

Acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure,

[1] OJ C , , p. .

Whereas:

(1) Directive 2014/65/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council[2] has been amended by Regulation (EU) 2019/2115 of the European Parliament and of the Council[3], which introduced proportionate alleviations to enhance the use of SME growth markets and to reduce the excessive regulatory requirements for issuers seeking admission of securities on SME growth markets, while preserving an appropriate level of investor protection and market integrity. However, to streamline the listing process and to render the regulatory treatment of companies more flexible and proportionate to their size, further amendments to Directive 2014/65/EU are necessary.

(2) Directive 2014/65/EU and Commission Delegated Directive (EU) 2017/593[4] set out the conditions under which the provision of investment research by third parties to investment firms providing portfolio management or other investment or ancillary services is not to be regarded as an inducement. In order to foster more investment research on companies in the Union, in particular small and middle capitalisation companies, and to bring those companies greater visibility and more prospect of attracting potential investors, it is necessary to introduce ▌ amendments to that Directive.

[2] Directive 2014/65/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 15 May 2014 on markets in financial instruments and amending Directive 2002/92/EC and Directive 2011/61/EU (OJ L 173, 12.6.2014, p. 349).

[3] Regulation (EU) 2019/2115 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 November 2019 amending Directive 2014/65/EU and Regulations (EU) No 596/2014 and (EU) 2017/1129 as regards the promotion of the use of SME growth markets (OJ L 320, 11.12.2019, p. 1).

[4] Commission Delegated Directive (EU) 2017/593 of 7 April 2016 supplementing Directive 2014/65/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council with regard to safeguarding of financial instruments and funds belonging to clients, product governance obligations and the rules applicable to the provision or reception of fees, commissions or any monetary or non-monetary benefits (OJ L 87, 31.3.2017, p. 500).

(3) The Articles concerning research laid down in Directive 2014/65/EU require investment firms to separate payments which they receive as brokerage commissions from the compensation perceived for providing investment research (‘research unbundling rules’), or to pay for investment research from their own resources and assess the quality of the research they purchase based on robust quality criteria and the ability of such research to contribute to better investment decisions. In 2021, those rules have been amended by Directive (EU) 2021/338 of the European Parliament and of the Council[5] to allow for bundled payments for execution services and research for small and middle capitalisation companies below a market capitalisation of EUR 1 billion. The decline of investment research has, however, not slowed down.

(4) In order to revitalise the market for investment research and to ensure sufficient research coverage of companies, in particular for small and middle-capitalisation companies, the research unbundling rules need to be further adjusted to offer investment firms more flexibility in the way that they choose to organise payments for execution services and research, thus limiting the situations where separate payments may be too cumbersome.

[5] Directive (EU) 2021/338 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 16 February 2021 amending Directive 2014/65/EU as regards information requirements, product governance and position limits, and Directives 2013/36/EU and (EU) 2019/878 as regards their application to investment firms, to help the recovery from the COVID-19 crisis (OJ L 68, 26.2.2021, p. 14).

Accordingly, the market capitalisation threshold for companies for which the re-bundling of payments for trading execution and research would be possible should be removed to allow investment firms to proceed in the way they find most appropriate in terms of payments for research and execution services. Doing so would, however, require transparency vis-a-vis clients as to the choice of payment method.

Investment firms should inform their clients whether they apply a separate or joint payment method for the provision of third-party research and execution services.

The choice of an investment firm as to whether to apply separate or joint payments for research and execution services should be made in compliance with the investment firm's policy. That policy should be provided to clients and should indicate, depending on the method of payment selected by the firm, the type of information on costs attributable to third-party research. In the case of joint payment for research and execution services, clients should be entitled to receive, upon request and on an annual basis, information on the total costs attributable to third-party research provided to the investment firm, if known to the firm. The investment firm's policy on separate or joint payments should also include information on the measures to prevent or manage the conflicts of interest arising from the use or delivery of third-party research to clients while providing investment services to those clients.

Regardless of the selected payment method, the investment firm should also perform an assessment of the quality, usability and value of the research it uses, to ensure that such research contributes to enhancing the investment decision process of the firm's clients, where that research is distributed directly to them or where used by the portfolio management services of the firm.

Sales and trading commentary comprises analyses of market conditions, trading and trade execution ideas, trade execution management tools and other bespoke analyses related to executing a trade in financial instruments. Such sales and trading commentary is incidental to the execution of transactions in financial instruments as it allows investment firms offering execution services to demonstrate the quality of the execution they achieve for their clients. Therefore, sales and trading commentary cannot be separated from execution services and should not be considered to be investment research.

(4a) The adjustment of unbundling rules alone will not suffice to revitalise the market of research investment and address the longstanding shortage of research coverage of small and middle-capitalisation companies. Further measures should be introduced to improve the research coverage of small and middle-capitalisation companies.

Putting in place organisational arrangements ensuring that issuer-sponsored research is produced in compliance with an EU code of conduct for issuer-sponsored research should enhance the trust in and the use of issuer-sponsored research. The code of conduct should be established on the basis of regulatory technical standards to be developed by ESMA.

Another measure to improve the research coverage of small and middle-capitalisation companies should be to allow issuers paying for issuer-sponsored research to make such research more visible to the public by giving them the possibility of submitting such research to the relevant collection body as defined in Article 2(2) of Regulation (EU) 2023/2859 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 13 December 2023 establishing a European single access point providing centralised access to publicly available information of relevance to financial services, capital markets and sustainability, subject to it being accompanied by the necessary metadata. Such measures should not prevent Member States or ESMA from considering and assessing additional measures based on public or private initiatives, such as the establishment of dedicated research marketplaces, drawing inspiration from successful initiatives launched in recent years across several financial centres, to revitalise research on small and middle-capitalisation companies and increase their visibility.

(5) In order to reinforce the recognition of issuer-sponsored research prepared in compliance with the EU code of conduct for issuer-sponsored research and to avoid such research being confused with other forms of recommendation that do not comply with the EU code of conduct, only issuer-sponsored research prepared in compliance with the EU code of conduct for issuer-sponsored research should be authorised to be labelled as such. Recommendations of the type covered by Article 3(1), point (35), of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 that do not meet the conditions required for issuer-sponsored research should be treated as marketing communications for the purposes of Directive 2014/65/EU and identified as such.

(5a) In order to ensure that issuer-sponsored research, labelled as such, is produced in compliance with the EU code of conduct, competent authorities should be given supervisory powers to control that investment firms that produce or distribute such research, have in place organisational arrangements to ensure such compliance. Where those firms do not comply with the EU code of conduct, the competent authorities should be empowered to suspend the distribution of such research and to warn the public that despite its label, the issuer-sponsored research was not produced in compliance with the EU code of conduct. Those supervisory powers should be without prejudice to the general supervisory powers and to the power to adopt sanctions.

(6) Directive 2014/65/EU introduced the SME growth market category to increase the visibility and profile of markets specialised in SMEs and foster the development of common regulatory standards in the Union of markets specialised in SMEs. SME growth markets play a key function in facilitating access to capital for those smaller issuers by catering for their needs. To foster the development of such specialised markets and to limit the organisational burden for the operators of multilateral trading facilities (MTFs), it is necessary to allow the segment of an MTF to apply to become an SME growth market provided that such segment is clearly separated from the rest of the MTF.

(6a) To reduce the risk for fragmentation of liquidity for SME shares, considering the lower liquidity of these instruments, Article 33(7) of Directive 2014/65/EU requires that a financial instrument that is admitted to trading on one SME growth market may only be traded also on another SME growth market where the issuer of the financial instrument has not objected to it. However, the Article currently does not provide the corresponding requirement for non-objection by the issuer where the second trading venue is another type of trading venue than an SME growth market. Hence, the issuers non-objection requirement regarding the admission to trading of their instruments already admitted to trading on an SME growth market should be extended to any other trading venue in order to in order to further reduce the risk of fragmentation of the liquidity of these instruments. If a financial instrument admitted to trading on an SME growth market is also traded on another type of trading venue, the issuer should follow any obligation relating to corporate governance or initial, ongoing or ad hoc disclosure with regard to the latter trading venue.

(7) Directive 2001/34/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council[6] lays down rules concerning listing on Union markets. That Directive aims at coordinating the rules on the admission of securities to official stock exchange listing and on information to be published on those securities to provide equivalent protection for investors at Union level. That Directive also lays down the rules of the regulatory and supervisory framework for Union primary markets. In the course of the years, Directive 2001/34/EC has been amended significantly several times. Directives 2003/71/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council[7] and Directive 2004/109/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council[8] have replaced most of the provisions harmonising the conditions for the provision of information regarding requests for the admission of securities to official stock exchange listing and the information on securities admitted to trading, and have made large parts of Directive 2001/34/EC redundant. In light of this and the fact that Directive 2001/34/EC as a minimum harmonisation Directive gives Member States a rather broad discretion to deviate from the rules laid down in that Directive, Directive2001/34/EC should be repealed to allow a single rule book at Union level.

[6] Directive 2001/34/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 28 May 2001 on the admission of securities to official stock exchange listing and on information to be published on those securities (OJ L 184, 6.7.2001, p. 1).

[7] Directive 2003/71/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 4 November 2003 on the prospectus to be published when securities are offered to the public or admitted to trading and amending Directive 2001/34/EC (OJ L 345, 31.12.2003, p. 64).

[8] Directive 2004/109/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 15 December 2004 on the harmonisation of transparency requirements in relation to information about issuers whose securities are admitted to trading on a regulated market and amending Directive 2001/34/EC (OJ L 390, 31.12.2004, p. 38).

(8) Directive 2014/65/EU, like Directive 2001/34/EC, provides for the regulation of markets of financial instruments and strengthens investor protection in the Union. Directive 2014/65/EU also sets out rules on the admission of financial instruments to trading. ▌Extending the scope of Directive 2014/65/EU to cover specific provisions from Directive 2001/34/EC will ensure that all relevant provisions from Directive 2001/34/EC are maintained. A number of provisions of Directive 2001/34/EC, including the requirements on free float and market capitalisation which still apply, are enforced by competent authorities and are considered important rules for seeking admission to trading of shares on regulated markets in the Union by market participants. It is therefore necessary to transfer those rules in Directive 2014/65/EU to set out, in a new provision of that Directive, specific minimum conditions for the admission to trading of shares on regulated markets. The application of that new provision should complement the general provisions on the admission of financial instrument to trading laid down in Directive 2014/65/EU.

(9) The level of minimum free float of 25% required by Directive 2001/34/EC is considered excessive and no longer appropriate. To allow for more flexibility for issuers and to make Union capital markets more competitive, the minimum free float requirement should be decreased to 10%, which is a threshold that ensures for a sufficient level of liquidity in the market. However, to better take into account the characteristics and sizes of the issuances of shares, Member States should allow alternative ways to measure whether a sufficient number of shares have been distributed to the public. Compliance with the 10% threshold or with the alternative requirements provided at national level for ensuring a minimum free float should be assessed at time of admission. The free float requirement laid down in Directive 2001/34/EC that a sufficient number of shares is to be distributed to the public in one or more Member States refers to the public within the Union and the European Economic Area (EU/EEA). That geographical restriction of the free float requirement to the EU/EEA should not be maintained as Directive 2014/65/EU does not provide for such restriction for financial instruments admitted to trading.

Certain requirements set out in Directive 2001/34/EC are already covered by provisions laid out in other Union legislation in force or became obsolete. Hence they should not be transferred to Directive 2014/65/EU. For instance the requirement for a company to publish or file its annual accounts for a specific period of time is already included in Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 of the European Parliament and of the Council[9]. Similarly, Directive 2014/65/EU already lays down provisions to designate competent authorities. Furthermore, ▌ the requirement for ▌ the minimum amount of the loan for debt securities no longer reflects market practice. Therefore those provisions have not been transferred to Directive 2014/65/EU.

9 Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 14 June 2017 on the prospectus to be published when securities are offered to the public or admitted to trading on a regulated market, and repealing Directive 2003/71/EC (OJ L 168, 30.6.2017, p. 12).

(10) The concept of admission of securities to official listing on stock exchanges provided for in Directive 2001/34/EC is no longer prevailing, given market developments, as Directive 2014/65/EU already provides for the concept of 'admission of financial instruments to trading on a regulated market'. While in some Member States the two concepts 'admission to official listing' and 'admission to trading on a regulated market' are used interchangeably, in other Member States the concept of 'admission to official listing' continues to play an important role alongside the concept of 'admission to trading on a regulated market', in particular by providing an alternative to issuers of securities, notably debt securities, who seek increased visibility but for whom admission to trading is not a relevant or viable option. The repeal of Directive 2001/34/EC by this Directive should be without prejudice to the validity and continuation of the regimes of admission to official listing on stock exchanges in those Member States who would like to continue to apply the regime. In any case, Member States should retain the ability to provide for and regulate such regimes under national legislation.[10]

[10] Directive 2014/57/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 16 April 2014 on criminal sanctions for market abuse (market abuse directive) (OJ L 173, 12.6.2014, p. 179).

(11) To enhance the visibility of listed companies, in particular small and middle-capitalisation companies and to adapt the listing conditions to improve requirements for issuers, the power to adopt acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union should be delegated to the Commission in respect of amending Directive 2014/65/EU. The adoption of the listing rules in the Union should also reflect market practice for it to be effective and promote competition. It is of particular importance that the Commission carry out appropriate consultations during its preparatory work, including at expert level, and that those consultations be conducted in accordance with the principles laid down in the Interinstitutional Agreement of 13 April 2016 on Better Law-Making[11]. In particular, to ensure equal participation in the preparation of delegated acts, the European Parliament and the Council receive all documents at the same time as Member States' experts, and their experts systematically have access to meetings of Commission expert groups dealing with the preparation of delegated acts.

(12) Directive 2014/65/EU should therefore be amended accordingly.

(13) Since the objectives of this Directive, namely to ease Union small and middle-capitalisation companies capitalisation companies’ access to capital markets, and to increase the coherence of Union listing rules cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States but can rather, by reason of the improvements and effects sought, be better achieved at Union level, the Union may adopt measures, in accordance with the principle of subsidiarity as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty on European Union. In accordance with the principle of proportionality as set out in that Article, this Directive does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve those objectives.

HAVE ADOPTED THIS DIRECTIVE:

Article 1

Amendments to Directive 2014/65/EU

Directive 2014/65/EU is amended as follows:

(1) in Article 4(1), point (12) is replaced by the following:

‘(12) ‘SME growth market’ means an MTF, or a segment of an MTF, that is registered as an SME growth market in accordance with Article 33;’;’

(2) Article 24 is amended as follows:

(a) the following paragraphs ▌ are inserted:

'3a. Research used by, or distributed to, clients or potential clients by investment firms providing portfolio management or other investment or ancillary services that has been produced by those investment firms, or produced by third parties and provided to those investment firms, shall be fair, clear and not misleading. Research shall be clearly identifiable as such or in similar terms, provided that all conditions laid down in Delegated Regulation EU 2017/565 applicable to the research are met.

3b. Investment firms providing portfolio management or other investment or ancillary services shall ensure that the research they distribute to clients or potential clients which is paid for, fully or partially, by an issuer shall be labelled as 'issuer-sponsored research' only if it is produced in compliance with the EU code of conduct for issuer-sponsored research.

ESMA shall develop draft regulatory technical standards to establish an EU code of conduct for issuer-sponsored research. That code of conduct shall set out standards of independency and objectivity, and specify procedures and measures for the effective identification, prevention and disclosure of conflicts of interest.

In developing the regulatory technical standards on the EU code of conduct, ESMA shall take into account the content and parameters of codes of conduct for issuer-sponsored research which have been established at national level prior to the date of application of the regulatory technical standards, especially where such codes have been widely endorsed and adhered to. ESMA shall also, where applicable, take into account the relevant obligations and standards on investment recommendations set out in Article 20 of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014.

ESMA shall submit those draft regulatory technical standards to the Commission by … [12 months from the date of entry into force of this amending Directive].

Power is delegated to the Commission to supplement this Directive by adopting the regulatory technical standards referred to in the second subparagraph in accordance with Articles 10 to 14 of Regulation (EU) No 1095/2010 of the European Parliament and of the Council[12] .

The EU code of conduct for issuer-sponsored research shall be made publicly available on ESMA's website.

ESMA shall assess on a regular basis and at least every five years whether the EU code of conduct needs to be reviewed, in which case it shall submit amended draft regulatory technical standards to the Commission.

Member States shall provide that investment firms that produce or distribute issuer-sponsored research have in place organisational arrangements to ensure that such research is produced in compliance with the EU code of conduct as referred to in paragraph 3b and complies with paragraphs 3a, 3b and 3d.

12 Regulation (EU) No 1095/2010 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 24 November 2010 establishing a European Supervisory Authority (European Securities and Markets Authority), amending Decision No 716/2009/EC and repealing Commission Decision 2009/77/EC (OJ L 331, 15.12.2010, p. 84).

3c. Member States shall ensure that any issuer may submit its issuer-sponsored research, as referred to in paragraph 3b of this Article, to the relevant collection body as defined in ▌ Article 2(2) of Regulation (EU) 2023/2859[13].

When submitting such information to the collection body, the issuer shall ensure that it is accompanied by metadata specifying that the information complies with the EU code of conduct for issuer-sponsored research. Such information is not regulated information within the meaning of Directive 2004/109/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council[14] nor investment research within the meaning of Directive 2014/65/EU and is therefore not subject to the same level of regulatory scrutiny as such regulated information or investment research.

3d. Research that is labelled as "issuer-sponsored research" shall indicate on its front page in a clear and prominent way that it has been prepared in accordance with the EU code of conduct referred to in paragraph 3b. Any other research material paid fully or in part by the issuer but not prepared in compliance with that EU code of conduct ▌ shall be labelled as marketing communication. '

13 Regulation (EU) 2023/2859 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 13 December 2023 establishing a European single access point providing centralised access to publicly available information of relevance to financial services, capital markets and sustainability.

14 Directive 2004/109/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 15 December 2004 on the harmonisation of transparency requirements in relation to information about issuers whose securities are admitted to trading on a regulated market and amending Directive 2001/34/EC (OJ L 390, 31.12.2004, p. 38).

(b) ▌ paragraph 9a is amended as follows:

(i) the first subparagraph is replaced by the following:

'9a. The provision of research by third parties to an investment firm providing portfolio management or other investment or ancillary services to clients is to be regarded as fulfilling the obligations under paragraph 1 if:'

(a) an agreement has been entered into between the investment firm and the third-party provider of research and execution services, establishing a methodology for remuneration, including how the total cost of research is generally taken into account when establishing the total charges for investment services;

(b) the investment firm informs its clients about its choice to pay either jointly or separately for execution services and research and makes available to them its policy on payments for execution services and third-party research, including the type of information that may be provided depending on the firm's choice of payment and, where relevant, how the investment firm prevents or manages conflicts of interest pursuant to Article 23 when providing joint payments for execution services and research;

(c) the investment firm assesses the quality, usability and value of the research used, as well as the ability of the research used to contribute to better investment decisions, on an annual basis. ESMA may develop guidelines for investment firms for the purpose of conducting those assessments;

(d) where the firm chooses to pay separately for execution services and third-party research, the provision of research by third parties to investment firms providing portfolio management or other investment or ancillary services to clients is received in return for either of the following:

i) direct payments by the investment firm out of its own resources;

ii) payments from a separate research payment account controlled by the investment firm.

(ii) the following subparagraphs are added:

For the purpose of this Article, trading commentary and other bespoke trade advisory services intrinsically linked to the execution of a transaction in financial instruments shall not be considered to be research.

Where a research provider is not engaged in execution services and is not part of a financial services group that includes an investment firm that offers execution or brokerage services, the provision of research to investment firms providing portfolio management or other investment or ancillary services to clients is regarded as fulfilling the obligations under paragraph 1. In such cases, the investment firm shall comply with the requirement under point (c) of the previous subparagraph.

Where known to them, investment firms shall keep a record of the total costs attributable to third-party research provided to them. Upon request, such information shall be made available on an annual basis to the investment firm's clients.

By … [4 years from the date of entry into force of this amending Directive], ESMA shall prepare a report with a comprehensive assessment of market developments regarding research within the meaning of this Article. That assessment shall incorporate at least the research coverage of listed firms, the evolution of the costs and quality of that research, the impact of joint payments on execution quality, the share of separate and joint payments made by investment firms to third party providers for execution services and research, and the level of fulfilment of the demand for research by investors and other buyers.

Based on that report, the Commission may, if appropriate, submit to the European Parliament and to the Council a legislative proposal concerning changes to the rules laid down in this Directive regarding research.'

(3) Article 33 is amended as follows:

(a) paragraphs 1 and 2 are replaced by the following:

'1. Member States shall provide that the operator of an MTF may apply to its home competent authority to have the MTF or a segment thereof, registered as an SME growth market.

2. Member States shall provide that the home competent authority may register the MTF, or a segment thereof, as an SME growth market if the competent authority receives an application as referred to in paragraph 1 and is satisfied that the requirements in paragraph 3 are complied with in relation to the MTF, or that the requirements in paragraph 3a are complied with in relation to a segment of the MTF.;'

(b) the following paragraph is inserted:

‘3a. Member States shall ensure that the relevant segment of the MTF is subject to effective rules, systems and procedures which ensure that the conditions referred to in paragraph 3 and all of the following conditions have been complied with:

(a) the segment of the MTF registered as ‘SME growth market’ is clearly separated from the other market segments operated by the MTF operator, which is inter alia indicated by a different name, different rulebook, different marketing strategy, and different publicity, as well as a specific allocation of the market identification code to the SME growth market segment;

(b) the transactions made on the specific SME growth market segment are clearly distinguished from other market activity within the other segments of the MTF;

(c) upon request of the MTF’s home competent authority, the MTF shall provide a comprehensive list of the instruments listed on the SME growth market segment concerned, as well as any information on the operation of the SME growth market segment that the competent authority may request.’;’

(c) paragraphs 4 to 8 are replaced by the following:

‘4. Compliance by the investment firm or market operator operating the MTF, or a segment thereof, with the conditions laid down in paragraphs 3 and 3a is without prejudice to the compliance with other obligations under this Directive relevant to the operation of MTFs. Without prejudice to paragraph 7, the investment firm or market operator operating the MTF, or a segment thereof, may impose additional requirements.

5. Member States shall provide that the home competent authority may deregister an MTF, or a segment thereof, as an SME growth market in any of the following cases:

    (a) the investment firm or market operator operating the MTF, or a segment thereof, applies for its deregistration;

    (b) the requirements in paragraph 3 or 3a are no longer complied with in relation to the MTF, or a segment thereof.

6. Members States shall require that if a home competent authority registers or deregisters an MTF, or a segment thereof, as an SME growth market under this Article, that authority shall as soon as possible notify ESMA of that registration or deregistration. ESMA shall publish on its website a list of SME growth markets and shall keep that list up to date.’;’

7. Member States shall require that where a financial instrument of an issuer is admitted to trading on one SME growth market, the financial instrument may also be traded on another trading venue only where the issuer has been informed and has not objected. Where the other trading venue is another SME growth market, the issuer shall not be subject to any obligation relating to corporate governance or initial, ongoing or ad hoc disclosure with regard to the latter SME growth market. Where the other trading venue is not an SME growth market, the issuer shall be informed of any obligation relating to corporate governance or initial, ongoing or ad hoc disclosure with regard to the latter trading venue which it will be subject to. ESMA shall develop guidelines by ...[date of application] on the communication methods to be used and the relevant timelines.

‘8. The Commission is empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 89 to supplement this Directive by further specifying the requirements laid down in paragraphs 3 and 3a of this Article. Those requirements shall take into account the need to maintain high levels of investor protection to promote investor confidence in those markets while minimising the administrative burdens for issuers on the market. They shall also take into account that de-registrations do not occur nor shall registrations be refused merely because of a temporary failure to comply with the requirement laid down in paragraph 3, point (a), of this Article.’;’

‘ Article 51a

Specific conditions for the admission of shares to trading

1. Member States shall ensure that regulated markets require that the foreseeable market capitalisation of the shares for which admission to trading is sought, or if this cannot be assessed, the company’s capital and reserves, including profit and loss, from the last financial year, shall be at least EUR 1 000 000 or an equivalent amount in a national currency other than the Euro.

2. Paragraph 1 shall however not apply to the admission to trading of shares fungible with shares already admitted to trading.

3. Where, as a result of an adjustment of the equivalent amount in a national currency other than the euro, the market capitalisation expressed in the national currency remains for a period of one year at least 10 % more, or at least 10 % less, than EUR 1 000 000, the Member State shall, within the 12 months following the expiry of that period, adjust its laws, regulations or administrative provisions to comply with paragraph 1.

4. Member States shall ensure that regulated markets require that at least 10% of the subscribed capital represented by the class of shares concerned by the application for admission to trading is held by the public at the time of admission.

5. By way of derogation from paragraph 4, Member States may require that regulated markets establish at least one of the following requirements for an application for admission to trading of shares at the time of admission:

(a) a sufficient number of shares is held by the public;

(b) the shares are held by a sufficient number of shareholders;

(c) the market value of the shares held by the public represents a sufficient level of subscribed capital in the class of shares concerned.

6. Where admission to trading is sought for shares fungible with shares already admitted to trading, regulated markets shall assess, to fulfil the requirement laid down in paragraph 4, whether a sufficient number of shares has been distributed to the public in relation to all the shares issued and not only in relation to the shares fungible with shares already admitted to trading.

7. The Commission is empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 89 to amend this Directive by modifying the thresholds referred to in paragraphs 1 and 3 or in paragraph 4 or in both, when the applicable thresholds impede the liquidity on public markets taking into account the financial developments.';'

(4a) In Article 69(2), first subparagraph, the following points are added:

'(v) take all necessary measures to control that investments firms have in place organisational arrangements to ensure that issuer-sponsored research that they produce or distribute is produced in compliance with the EU code of conduct for issuer-sponsored research;

(w) suspend the distribution by investment firms of any issuer-sponsored research not produced in compliance with the EU code of conduct issuer-sponsored research;

(x) issue warnings to inform the public that research which has been labelled as an issuer-sponsored research is not produced in compliance with the EU code of conduct issuer-sponsored research.'

(5) Article 89 is amended as follows:

(a) paragraphs 2 and 3 are replaced by the following:

‘2. The delegation of power referred to in Article 2(3), Article 2(4), Article 4(1)(2), second subparagraph, Article 4(2), Article 13(1), Article 16(12), Article 23(4), Article 24(13), Article 25(8), Article 27(9), Article 28(3), Article 30(5), Article 31(4), Article 32(4), Article 33(8), Article 51a(7), Article 52(4), Article 54(4), Article 58(6), Article 64(7), Article 65(7) and Article 79(8) shall be conferred on the Commission for an indeterminate period of time.

3. The delegation of power referred to in Article 2(3), Article 2(4), Article 4(1)(2), second subparagraph, Article 4(2), Article 13(1), Article 16(12), Article 23(4), Article 24(13), Article 25(8), Article 27(9), Article 28(3), Article 30(5), Article 31(4), Article 32(4), Article 33(8), Article 51a(7), Article 52(4) Article 54(4), Article 58(6), Article 64(7), Article 65(7) and Article 79(8) may be revoked at any time by the European Parliament or by the Council. A decision to revoke shall put an end to the delegation of the power specified in that decision. It shall take effect the day following the publication of the decision in the Official Journal of the European Union or at a later date specified therein. It shall not affect the validity of any delegated acts already in force.;’

‘5. A delegated act adopted pursuant to Article 2(3), Article 2(4), Article 4(1)(2), second subparagraph, Article 4(2), Article 13(1), Article 16(12), Article 23(4), Article 24(13), Article 25(8), Article 27(9), Article 28(3), Article 30(5), Article 31(4), Article 32(4), Article 33(8), Article 51a(7), Article 52(4), Article 54(4), Article 58(6), Article 64(7), Article 65(7) or Article 79(8) shall enter into force only if no objection has been expressed either by the European Parliament or the Council within a period of three months of notification of that act to the European Parliament and the Council or if, before the expiry of that period, the European Parliament and the Council have both informed the Commission that they will not object. That period shall be extended by three months at the initiative of the European Parliament or of the Council.’.’

(5a) Article 90 is amended as follows:

(a) The following paragraph is added:

‘6. By ... [four years after entry into force of this Directive], the Commission shall review and assess the impact of the provision on non-objection in Article 33(7) on the competition among trading venues, in particular SME growth markets, and its impact on access to capital for SMEs. ’

Proposal for a

REGULATION OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL

amending Regulations (EU) 2017/1129, (EU) No 596/2014 and (EU) No 600/2014 to make public capital markets in the Union more attractive for companies and to facilitate access to capital for small and medium-sized enterprises

THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, and in particular Article 114 thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the European Commission,

After transmission of the draft legislative act to the national parliaments,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Economic and Social Committee[15],

Acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure,

Whereas:

(1) By developing Union capital markets and decreasing their fragmentation along national borders, the Capital Markets Union (CMU)[16] project aims to enable companies to access funding sources other than bank lending and to adapt their financing structure when maturing and growing in size. More diversified financing in the form of debt and equity will decrease risks for individual companies and the overall economy as well as help Union companies, including small and mid-sized enterprises (SMEs), realise their growth potential. It is acknowledged that the CMU needs to be realised more quickly and that investment funds need to reach the levels made necessary by the Union's policy priorities related to environmental protection, digitalisation and strategic autonomy. Moving forward on the area of listing is a necessary step for the CMU, especially in the short term, but as a stand-alone measure it cannot be sufficient.

(2) The CMU requires an efficient and effective regulatory framework that supports access to public equity funding for companies, including SMEs. Directive 2014/65/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council[17] created a new type of trading venue, the SME growth market, to facilitate access to capital specifically for SMEs. Directive 2014/65/EU also expressed the need to monitor how future regulation should further foster and promote the use of SME growth markets, and provide further incentives for SMEs to access capital markets through SME growth markets. Such measures need to ensure not only that SME growth markets provide an increasingly attractive opportunity for SMEs to raise funds but also that, with time and success, SMEs are able to access other capital markets, if they choose to do so.

(3) Regulation (EU) 2019/2115 of the European Parliament and of the Council[18] introduced proportionate alleviations to enhance the use of SME growth markets and to reduce the regulatory requirements for issuers seeking admission of securities on SME growth markets, while preserving an appropriate level of investor protection and market integrity. Nevertheless, more needs to be done to make access to Union public markets more attractive and render the regulatory treatment of companies more flexible and proportionate to their size. The High-Level Forum on the CMU[19] recommended the Commission to remove regulatory obstacles that hold companies back from accessing public markets. The Technical Expert Stakeholder Group on SMEs[20] set out detailed recommendations on how to foster companies and, in particular, SMEs to access Union public markets.

(4) Building on a Commission's initiative within its post-COVID19 recovery strategy, i.e. the Capital Markets Recovery Package, targeted amendments have been introduced into Regulations (EU) 2017/1129[21], Regulation (EU) 2017/2402[22] of the European Parliament and of the Council[3], Directive 2014/65/EU and Directive 2004/109/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council[23] to make it easier for companies affected by the economic crisis caused by the pandemic to raise equity capital on public markets, facilitate investments in the real economy, allow for the rapid re-capitalisation of businesses, and increase banks' capacity to finance the recovery. Overall, however, and for a number of reasons, those measures could only have a limited impact.

22 Regulation (EU) 2017/2402 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 12 December 2017 laying down a general framework for securitisation and creating a specific framework for simple, transparent and standardised securitisation, and amending Directives 2009/65/EC, 2009/138/EC and 2011/61/EU and Regulations (EC) No 1060/2009 and (EU) No 648/2012 (OJ L 347, 28.12.2017, p. 35).

23 Directive 2004/109/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 15 December 2004 on the harmonisation of transparency requirements in relation to information about issuers whose securities are admitted to trading on a regulated market and amending Directive 2001/34/EC (OJ L 390, 31.12.2004, p. 38).

(5) On the basis of the recommendations of the Technical Expert Stakeholder Group on SMEs and building on Regulation 2019/2115 and on the measures adopted under Regulation (EU) 2021/337 of the European Parliament and of the Council[24], and as part of the Capital Markets Recovery Package, the Commission committed to put forward a legislative initiative to make access to public markets in the Union more attractive by reducing compliance costs, and by removing significant obstacles that hold back companies, including SMEs, from accessing public markets in the Union. To achieve its objectives, the scope of that legislative initiative should be broad and address obstacles that concern companies' access to public markets, namely the pre-initial public offering (IPO), IPO and post-IPO phases. In particular, the simplification and removal of obstacles should focus on the IPO and post-IPO phases by addressing burdensome disclosure requirements to seek admission to trading on public markets laid down in Regulation (EU) 2017/1129, and by addressing burdensome ongoing disclosure requirements laid down in Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council[25].

[24] Regulation (EU) 2021/337 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 16 February 2021 amending Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 as regards the EU Recovery prospectus and targeted adjustments for financial intermediaries and Directive 2004/109/EC as regards the use of the single electronic reporting format for annual financial reports, to support the recovery from the COVID-19 crisis (OJ L 68, 26.2.2021, p. 1).

[25] Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council on market abuse (market abuse regulation) and repealing Directive 2003/6/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council and Commission Directives 2003/124/EC, 2003/125/EC and 2004/72/EC (OJ L 173, 12.6.2014, p. 1).

(6) Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 lays down requirements for the drawing up, approval and distribution of the prospectus to be published when securities are offered to the public or admitted to trading on a regulated market that is situated in or operating within a Member State. To reinforce the attractiveness of Union public markets, it is necessary to address obstacles stemming from the length, complexity and high costs of the prospectus documentation, both where companies, including SMEs, seek access to public markets for the first time (IPO), and where companies access public markets for secondary issuances of equity or non-equity securities. For the same reason, the length of the scrutiny and approval process of those prospectuses by competent authorities, and the lack of convergence of those processes across the Union should also be addressed.

(7) For small offers of securities to the public, the costs of producing a prospectus could be disproportionate in relation to the total consideration of the offer. Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 does not apply to offers of securities to the public with a total consideration in the Union of less than EUR 1 000 000. In addition, in view of the varying sizes of financial markets across the Union, Member States may exempt offers of securities to the public from the obligation to publish a prospectus where such offer stays below a certain threshold, which Member States may set between EUR 1 000 000 and EUR 8 000 000. Certain Member States have used that possibility, which has led to different exemption thresholds, creating complexity and lack of clarity for both issuers and investors. In order to reduce complexity under Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 and to foster legal clarity, the lower threshold of EUR 1 000 000 for the non-applicability of that Regulation should be removed.

(8) To streamline the threshold level while also considering the different sizes of national capital markets within the Union, a dual threshold system should be introduced and should replace the existing regime allowing Member States to set various thresholds within an interval. A threshold with the total aggregated consideration in the Union of EUR 12 000 000 per issuer or offeror, calculated over a period of 12 months, should be the principal threshold, while Member States should be allowed to opt for a threshold of EUR 5 000 000 instead. Below the threshold of either EUR 12 000 000 or EUR 5 000 000, offers of securities to the public should be exempted from the obligation to publish a prospectus, provided that those offers do not require passporting. In the case of such an exemption, however, Member States should be allowed but not be obliged to introduce a requirement to publish either a document containing the information as referred to in Article 7 of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129. Alternatively, Member States may require a document containing information requirements set out at national level, provided that the extent and level of such information is equivalent or lower than the information set out in Article 7 of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129. Nothing in this Regulation should prevent those Member States from introducing rules at national level which allow the operators of multilateral trading facilities (MTFs) to determine the content of the admission document which an issuer is required to produce upon initial admission to trading of its securities or the modalities of its review.

(9) Cross-border offers of securities to the public that are exempted from the obligation to publish a prospectus should be subject to the national disclosure requirements set out by the concerned Member States, where applicable. However, issuers, offerors or persons asking for the admission to trading on a regulated market of securities which are not subject to the obligation to publish a prospectus should benefit from the single passport where they choose to draw up a prospectus on a voluntary basis.

(10) Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 contains several provisions that refer to the total consideration of certain offers of securities to the public, including ongoing offers of securities to the public, to be calculated over a period of 12 months. To provide clarity to issuers, investors and competent authorities and to avoid divergent approaches across the Union, it is necessary to specify how ▌ the total consideration of those offers of securities to the public should be calculated over a period of 12 months.

(11) Article 1(5), point (a), of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 contains an exemption from the obligation to publish a prospectus for the admission to trading on a regulated market of securities fungible with securities already admitted to trading on the same regulated market, provided that the newly admitted securities represent over a period of 12 months less than 20 % of the number of securities already admitted to trading on the same regulated market and provided that such admission is not combined with an offer of securities to the public. To reduce complexity and to limit unnecessary costs and burdens, that exemption should also apply to ▌ the offer to the public under Article 1(4) of the Prospectus Regulation. For the same reasons, the percentage threshold that determines the eligibility for the exemption should be increased in both the offer to the public and the admission to trading on a regulated market. In addition, the exemption for offers of securities to the public should ▌ encompass an offer to the public of securities to be admitted to trading on a regulated market or an SME growth market and that are fungible with securities already admitted to trading on the same regulated market or SME growth market. Considering that subscription rights are intrinsically linked to the issuance of new shares, the right to subscribe shares fungible with existing shares should also be covered by this exemption. To ensure investor protection, in particular for retail investors, a short-form document with key information for investors should be made available to the public when an offer of fungible securities is made under the exemption. The document should be made available to the public and filed with the competent authority of the home Member State, but not be subject to its approval.

(12) Article 1(5), point (b), of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 ▌ contains an exemption from the obligation to publish a prospectus for the admission to trading on a regulated market of shares resulting from the conversion or the exchange of other securities or from the exercise of the rights conferred by other securities, provided that the newly admitted shares represent, over a period of 12 months, less than 20 % of the number of shares of the same class already admitted to trading on the same regulated market. That 20 % should be aligned with the threshold for the exemption for securities fungible with securities already admitted to trading on the same regulated market, the scope of the two exemptions being equivalent.

(13) Companies whose securities are admitted to trading on a regulated market or on an SME growth market are to comply with the periodic and ongoing disclosure requirements that are laid down in Regulation (EU) No 596/2014, Directive 2004/109/EC and, for issuers on SME growth markets, in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2017/565[26]. Where those companies issue securities fungible with securities already admitted to trading on these types of trading venues, they should be exempted from the obligation to publish a prospectus, as much of the required content of a prospectus will already be publicly available and investors will be able to trade on the basis of that information. However, such exemption should be subject to safeguards that do ensure that the company issuing the securities has complied with the periodic and ongoing disclosure requirements under Union law and is not subject to a restructuring or the opening of insolvency proceedings, as defined under Union law. Furthermore, to ensure the protection of investors, in particular retail investors, a short-form document with key information for investors should still be made available to the public. The document should be filed with the competent authority of the home Member State, but not be subject to its approval. Where subscription rights are connected to securities covered by the exemption for the offer to the public or the admission to trading on a regulated market the exemption should, consequently, also be applicable to subscription rights representing existing shareholders' preferential right to subscribe for the securities covered by the exemption. Where the scope of the new exemption makes other existing exemptions redundant, such other exemptions should be removed.

26 Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2017/565 of 25 April 2016 supplementing Directive 2014/65/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council as regards organisational requirements and operating conditions for investment firms and defined terms for the purposes of that Directive (OJ L 87, 31.3.2017, p. 1).

(14) Article 1(4), point (j) of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 exempts credit institutions from the obligation to publish a prospectus in the case of an offer or admission to trading on a regulated market of certain non-equity securities issued in a continuous or repeated manner up to an aggregated consideration of EUR 75 000 000 over a period of 12 months. Regulation (EU) 2021/337, as part of the Capital Markets Recovery Package, increased that threshold to EUR 150 000 000 for a limited period to foster fundraising for credit institutions and give those institutions breathing space to support their clients in the real economy. To continue to support fundraising through capital markets of issuers, including credit institutions, the increased threshold introduced by Regulation (EU) 2021/337 should be made permanent.

(15) To reduce the complexity of the prospectus documentation, and to make the prospectus a more harmonised document thus improving its readability for investors across the Union, irrespective of the jurisdiction where securities are offered to the public or admitted to trading on a regulated market, it is necessary to introduce a standardised format for the prospectus for both equity and non-equity securities and to require that the information included in the prospectus is disclosed in a standardised sequence while taking care that prospectuses are not overloaded with redundant or marginally relevant information.

(16) In certain cases, the prospectus or its related documents may reach massive sizes, becoming unfit for investors to take an informed investment decision and too expensive for issuers to produce due to the inherent expense associated with lengthy prospectuses. In addition, the length of prospectuses and their format varies greatly across the Union, which is contrary to the objective of fostering convergence within the capital markets union. To improve the readability of the prospectus, reduce the costs for issuers related to its drafting, create convergence across the Union, and make it easier for investors to analyse it and navigate through it, it is necessary to set out a maximum page limit. However, such page limit should only be introduced for offers to the public or admissions to trading on a regulated market of shares. A page limit would not be appropriate for equity securities other than shares or non-equity securities, which include a broad range of different instruments, including complex ones. Furthermore, the summary, information incorporated by reference, including a universal registration document approved by or filed with a competent authority, information included in a universal registration document that is used as a constituent part of a prospectus, or information to be provided when the issuer has a complex financial history or has made a significant financial commitment, or in the case of a significant gross change, should be excluded from the page limit.

(17) The standardised format and the standardised sequence of the information to be disclosed in the prospectus should be a requirement, irrespective of whether a prospectus, or a base prospectus, is drawn up as a single document or is composed of separate documents, except where information is included in a universal registration document. It is therefore necessary that Annexes I, II and III to Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 set out the standardised sequence of the sections for the information to be disclosed in the prospectus or, separately, in the registration document and in the securities note. Those Annexes should be the basis for the Commission to amend any delegated acts that impose a standardised format and sequence of sections of the prospectus, the base prospectus and the final terms, including on disclosure items within those sections. Furthermore, it is necessary to set out the standardised sequence of the information to be disclosed in the prospectus summary.

(17a) In order to reduce the burden for issuers who seek admission to trading on a regulated market in the Union and simultaneously offer or privately place securities with investors in a third-country, and who would otherwise have to draw up several documents, the page limit as well as the standard format and sequence should not apply to a prospectus relating to the admission to trading of such securities.

(17b) In order to achieve convergence across the Union on the format of prospectuses, ESMA should be required to develop draft implementing technical standards to specify the template and layout of prospectuses, including the font size, and style requirements depending on the type of prospectus and the type of investors targeted. Furthermore, in order to help investors to navigate through the prospectus, ESMA should be required to develop guidelines on comprehensibility and on the use of plain language in prospectuses to ensure that the information provided therein is concise, clear and user friendly depending on the type of prospectus and the type of investors targeted.

(18) The prospectus summary is a key and essential document that serves as a guidance to support retail investors in better understanding and navigating through the whole prospectus and thus to make informed investment decisions. To make the prospectus summary more easily readable and comprehensible for retail investors, it is necessary to allow issuers to present or summarise information in the prospectus summary in the form of charts, graphs or tables, with the page limit set out in Article 7 of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129.

(19) Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 allows issuers to extend the maximum length of the prospectus summary by one page when there is a guarantee attached to the securities, since information on both the guarantee and the guarantor needs to be provided. However, where there is more than one guarantor, an additional page may not be sufficient. It is therefore necessary to allow for extending further the ▌ length of the prospectus summary in the event of guarantees that are provided by more than one guarantor.

(19a) In order to ensure uniform conditions of application of the requirements on the summary of the prospectus, ESMA should be required to develop draft implementing technical standards to specify the template and layout of the summaries, including the font size and style requirements. Furthermore, to help retail investors to navigate through the summary of the prospectus, ESMA should be required to develop guidelines on comprehensibility and on the use of plain language in summaries to ensure that the information provided therein is concise, clear and user friendly.

(20) Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 allows an issuer which has received approval for a universal registration document for 2 consecutive years to file without prior approval all subsequent universal registration documents and any amendments thereto. To reduce unnecessary burdens and incentivise the use of the universal registration document, it is necessary to reduce the requirement of receiving the competent authority's approval to obtain the status of frequent issuer and the benefit to file only all subsequent universal registration documents and any amendments thereto to 1 year. Such alleviation will not affect investor protection, as a universal registration document and any amendments thereto may not be used as the constituent part of a prospectus without being approved by the relevant competent authority. Furthermore, a competent authority is allowed to review a universal registration document which has been filed with it on an ex-post basis whenever that competent authority deems it necessary and, where appropriate, request amendments.

(21) To facilitate the IPO of private companies on Union's public markets and, in general, to reduce unnecessary costs and burdens for companies that are offering securities to the public or seeking admission to trading on a regulated market, the prospectus for both equity and non-equity securities should be significantly streamlined, while ensuring that a sufficient high level of investor protection is maintained.

(22) While being too prescriptive for SMEs, it appears that the level of disclosure in the EU Growth Prospectus would be fit for purpose for companies seeking admission to trading on a regulated market. It is therefore appropriate to align Annexes I, II and III to Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 to the level of disclosure of the EU Growth prospectus, by taking as reference the related Annexes laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2019/980[27].

(23) Due to the growing importance of sustainability considerations in investment decisions, investors are increasingly considering information on environmental, social and governance (ESG) matters when taking informed investment decisions. It is therefore necessary to prevent greenwashing, by establishing ESG-related information to be provided, where relevant, in the prospectus for equity or non-equity securities offered to the public or admitted to trading on a regulated market. That requirement should, however, not overlap with the requirement laid down in other parts of the Union law to provide that information. Companies that offer equity securities to the public or seek the admission to trading of equity securities on a regulated market should therefore incorporate by reference in the prospectus, for the periods covered by the historical financial information, the management and consolidated management reports, which include the sustainability reporting, as required by Directive 2013/34/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council[28]. Moreover, the Commission should be empowered to set out schedules specifying the ESG-related information to be included in prospectuses for non-equity securities that are advertised as taking into account ESG factors or pursuing ESG objectives. The Commission should ensure consistency between the information required to be disclosed in a prospectus and, where applicable, the sustainability disclosures under Directive 2013/34/EU or, where applicable, those under Regulation (EU) 2023/... of the European Parliament and the

(24) Article 14 of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 provides for the possibility to draw up a simplified prospectus for secondary issuances by companies already admitted to trading on a regulated market or a SME growth market continuously for at least 18 months. However, the level of disclosure of the simplified prospectuses for secondary issuances is still considered too prescriptive and close to a standard prospectus to make a significant difference for secondary issuances of companies whose securities are already admitted to trading on a regulated market or an SME growth market and that are subject to periodic and ongoing disclosure requirements. To make the listing documentation easier to understand, and thus to make investor protection more effective, while reducing costs and burdens for issuers, a new and more efficient EU Follow-on prospectus for such secondary issuances should be introduced. However, to limit burdens for issuers and to protect investors, it is necessary to provide for a transitional period for prospectuses approved under the simplified disclosure regime for secondary issuances before the date of application of the new regime. Such EU Follow-on prospectus should be available for several categories of issuers whose securities have been admitted to trading on a regulated market or an SME growth market continuously for at least the last 18 months, or offerors of such securities. Those criteria should ensure that such issuers have complied with the periodic and ongoing disclosure requirements laid down in Directive 2004/109/EC, where applicable, Regulation (EU) No 596/2014, or, where applicable, Delegated Regulation (EU) 2017/565. ▌

[29] Regulation (EU) 2023/... of the European Parliament and of the Council on European Green Bonds and optional disclosures for bonds marketed as environmentally sustainable and for sustainability-linked bonds (OJ L … ELI:...)

(24a) To enable issuers to fully benefit from the EU Follow-on prospectus as an alleviated prospectus type, the scope should be broad and encompass public offers or admission to trading on a regulated market of securities that are fungible or not fungible with securities already admitted to trading. Furthermore, to enable successful companies to scale up and benefit from greater exposure to a broader pool of investors, the EU Follow-on prospectus should be available to companies that are seeking to make a transition from an SME growth market to a regulated market, provided that their securities have been admitted to trading on an SME growth market continuously for at least the last 18 months. However, an issuer who has only non-equity securities admitted to trading on a regulated market or an SME growth market should not be allowed to draw up an EU Follow-on prospectus for the admission to trading on a regulated market of equity securities, as this requires the disclosure of a full prospectus to enable investors to take an informed investment decision.

(25) The EU Recovery prospectus referred to in Article 14a of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 may no longer be used after 31 December 2022. That EU Recovery prospectus had the advantage that is was composed of a single document that was limited in size, making it easy for issuers to draw it up and easy for investors to understand it. For those reasons, and in cases where the EU Follow-on prospectus relates to shares and is subject to a page limit, the EU Follow-on prospectus could follow a similar model, and should be subject to the same reduced scrutiny period as the EU Recovery prospectus, However, the limited scrutiny period should not apply in the case of a transfer from an SME growth market to a regulated market. Moreover, the requirements for the EU Follow-on prospectus should for obvious reasons not require Covid-19 crisis-related disclosures. As the EU Follow-on prospectus should replace both the simplified prospectus for secondary issuances and the EU Recovery prospectus, it should be permanent and available for both secondary issuances of equity and non-equity securities. In addition, its use should not be subject to any restrictions beyond the requirement of the minimum and continuous period of admission of the securities concerned to trading on a regulated market or an SME growth market.

(26) The EU Follow-on prospectus should contain an alleviated summary as a useful source of information for ▌ retail investors. That summary should be set out at the beginning of the EU Follow-on prospectus and should focus on key information enabling investors to decide which offers to the public and admissions to trading of securities to study further, and subsequently to review the EU Follow-on prospectus as a whole to take an informed investment decision. However, the summary should not be required for the admission to trading of non-equity securities as referred to in Article 7(1) of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129.

(27) In order to make the EU Follow-on prospectus a harmonised document and facilitate its readability for investors across the Union, irrespective of the jurisdiction where securities are offered to the public or admitted to trading on a regulated market, its format should be standardised for both equity and non-equity securities. For the same reason, the information in the EU Follow-on prospectus should be disclosed in a standardised sequence. However, in order to support secondary issuances of non-equity securities, including as part of offering programs, the scope of application of the EU Follow-on prospectus for non-equity securities should be broad, and provide issuers with the possibility to draw it up either as a single document, or as separate documents.

(27a) To improve the readability of the EU Follow-on prospectus and to make it easier for investors to analyse it and navigate through it, such prospectus should be subject to a page limit for secondary issuances of shares . Such a page limit would, however, be inappropriate for the broad category of equity securities other than shares or non-equity securities, which include a wide range of different instruments, including complex ones. Furthermore, the summary, information incorporated by reference, including a universal registration document approved by or filed with a competent authority, information included in a universal registration document that is used as a constituent part of a prospectus or information to be provided when the issuer has a complex financial history or has made a significant financial commitment, or in the case of a significant gross change, should be excluded from the page limit.

(28) One of the key objectives of the CMU is to facilitate access of SMEs to public markets in the Union, to provide those SMEs with other sources of funding than bank lending and the opportunity to scale up and grow. The cost of producing a prospectus may be a deterrent for SMEs willing to offer securities to the public, considering the typical small size of the consideration of those offers. The EU Growth prospectus is a lighter prospectus, introduced by Regulation (EU) 2017/1129, and is available for SMEs and a few other categories of beneficiaries, including companies with market capitalisation up to EUR 500 million the securities of which are already admitted to trading on an SME growth market. The EU Growth prospectus aimed to reduce the costs of preparing a prospectus for smaller issuers, while providing investors with material information to assess the offer and take an informed investment decision. While issuers who draw up an EU Growth prospectus can achieve quite substantial costs savings, the level of disclosure of an EU Growth prospectus is still considered too prescriptive and close to a standard prospectus to make a significant difference for SMEs. There is therefore a need for an EU Growth issuance prospectus that has light requirements to make the listing documentation for SMEs even less complex and burdensome and to enable SMEs to achieve even more important savings. In order to limit burdens for issuers and to protect investors, it is, however, necessary to provide for a transitional period for EU Growth prospectuses approved before the date of application of the new regime.

(29) The requirements concerning the content of the EU Growth issuance prospectus should be light, taking into account the level of disclosure of the EU Recovery prospectus and some of the most straightforward admission documents that some SME growth markets require issuers to produce in case of an exemption from the obligation to publish a prospectus, and which content is laid down in the SME growth markets' rulebooks. The reduced information to be disclosed in an EU Growth issuance prospectus should be proportionate to the size of the companies listed on SME growth markets and their fundraising needs and ensure an adequate level of investor protection. Furthermore, the EU Growth issuance prospectus should consist of a single document, in order to make it an easy and straightforward document to be drawn up by companies, especially SMEs, and be easily read by investors.

(30) The EU Growth issuance prospectus should be available for SMEs, issuers other than SMEs the securities of which are admitted or are to be admitted to trading on an SME growth market, and offers from small unlisted companies up to EUR 50 000 000 over a period of 12 months. To avoid a two-tier disclosure standard on regulated markets depending on the size of the issuer, the EU Growth issuance prospectus should not be available for companies the securities of which are already admitted or are to be admitted to trading on regulated markets. However, in order to facilitate an upgrade to a regulated market and to enable issuers to benefit from an exposure to a broader investors' base, issuers whose securities have already been admitted to trading on an SME growth market continuously for at least the last 18 months should be allowed to use an EU Follow-on prospectus to transfer to ▌ a regulated market.

(31) The EU Growth issuance prospectus should contain an alleviated summary, as a useful source of information for retail investors, having the same format and content as the summary of the EU Follow-on prospectus. That summary should be set out at the beginning of the EU Growth issuance prospectus and should focus on key information enabling investors to decide which offers to the public of securities to study further, and subsequently to review the EU Growth issuance prospectus as a whole in order to take an informed investment decision.

(32) The EU Growth issuance prospectus should be a harmonised document which is easy to draw up by issuers, especially SMEs, and easy to be read by investors, irrespective of the jurisdiction within the Union where the securities concerned are offered to the public ▌. Its format should therefore be standardised for both equity and non-equity securities and the information included in the EU Growth issuance prospectus should be disclosed in a standardised sequence. To further standardise and improve the readability of the EU Growth issuance prospectus and make it easier for investors to analyse it and navigate through it, a page limit should be introduced in the event that an EU Growth issuance prospectus is drawn up for ▌ issuances of shares. That page limit should also be efficient in terms of the lighter requirements as to the content of the EU Growth issuance prospectus and effective in terms of providing the necessary information to enable investors to make informed investment decisions. A page limit would, however, be inappropriate for the broad category of equity securities other than shares or non-equity securities, which include a wide range of different instruments, including complex ones. Furthermore, the summary, information incorporated by reference or information to be provided when the issuer has a complex financial history or has made a significant financial commitment, or in the case of a significant gross change, should be excluded from the page limit.

(33) The EU Follow-on prospectus and the EU Growth issuance prospectus should complement the standard prospectus in Regulation (EU) 2017/1129. Therefore, unless explicitly stated otherwise, all references to the term 'prospectus' under Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 should be understood as referring to all different forms of prospectuses, including the EU Follow-on prospectus and the EU Growth issuance prospectus. The voluntary nature of the prospectus types should implicate that an issuer may choose one of the prospectus types available to them when an offer to the public or admission to trading on a regulated market requires a prospectus.

(33a) In order to instill confidence in the use of the EU Follow-on prospectus and the EU Growth issuance prospectus, it is important that their effectiveness and scope are clear, as the EU Follow-on prospectus and the EU Growth issuance prospectus are subject to the same liability regime set out in Article 11 of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 as a full prospectus, for both domestic and cross-border offers or admissions to trading. Therefore, where the issuer is entitled to use an EU Follow-on prospectus or an EU Growth issuance prospectus, which makes the preparation of the transaction at stake more efficient and less onerous, and no other material considerations against the use of any of those prospectuses exist, the issuers' choice among the prospectus types available to them should be protected and neither advisers nor competent authorities should drive issuers towards drawing up a full prospectus when this is not strictly required.

(34) Risk factors that are material and specific to the issuer and its securities should be mentioned in the prospectus. For that reason, risk factors are also to be presented in a limited number of risk categories depending on their nature. However, to ease the burden for issuers, the requirement to rank the most material risk factors should be replaced by a requirement to list, in each category, the most material risk factors in a manner which is consistent with the assessment undertaken by the issuer. To make more comprehensible the prospectus and make it easier for investors to take informed investment decisions, it is necessary to specify that issuers should not overload the prospectus with risk factors that are generic, that only serve as disclaimers, or that could conceal the specific risk factors that investors should be aware of.

(35) Under Article 17(1) of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129, where the final offer price and amount of securities offered to the public cannot be included in the prospectus, the investor has a withdrawal right which can be exercised within 2 working days after the final offer price or amount of securities to be offered to the public has been filed. To increase the level of investor protection, the period during which investor can exercise that withdrawal right should be extended. ▌

(36) Article 19 of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 gives issuers the possibility to incorporate into the prospectus certain information by reference. That possibility was introduced to reduce the burden for issuers and to avoid duplication of information that has already been disclosed and published under other Union financial services law. The possibility to incorporate information by reference ▌ would be further facilitated in the future, once investors, are able to access it in a more efficient and effective way ▌ on the European Single Access Point ('ESAP')[30]. The ESAP should enable investors to find in a single place the majority of the relevant information, hence further facilitating access to information incorporated by reference in prospectuses. Furthermore, companies should ▌ be allowed to incorporate by reference on voluntary basis information that is not to be disclosed in a prospectus, provided that such information fulfils the conditions laid down in Article 19(1) of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 on incorporation by reference.

(37) To remove unnecessary costs and burdens and to increase the efficiency and effectiveness of the incorporation into the prospectus of information by reference, it should be clarified that companies should not be required to publish a supplement for new annual or interim financial information in a base prospectus which is still valid, contrary to the situations specified in Delegated Regulation (EU) 2019/979. The new annual or interim financial information should instead be incorporated by reference in the base prospectus, provided that the requirements for incorporation by reference, such as electronic publication and language requirements, are fulfilled. However, companies should be allowed to voluntarily publish such information in a supplement.

(38) Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 promotes the convergence and harmonization of rules related to the scrutiny and approval of prospectuses by competent authorities. In particular, criteria for the scrutiny of the completeness, comprehensibility, and consistency of the prospectus were ▌ laid down in Delegated Regulation (EU) 2019/980. That list of criteria is, however, not exhaustive, because it should allow for the possibility to take into account developments and innovations in financial markets. As a result, Delegated Regulation (EU) 2019/980 allows competent authorities to apply additional criteria for the scrutiny and approval of prospectuses where those competent authorities deem that necessary to protect investors. The peer review report[31] from the European Supervisory Authority (European Securities and Markets Authority), ('ESMA') established by Regulation (EU) No 1095/2010 of the European Parliament and of the Council[2] pointed out that that possibility has created material differences in the way competent authorities apply additional scrutiny criteria and request issuers to provide additional information in the prospectus under their scrutiny. ▌

(38a) To foster convergence and harmonisation of the prospectus supervisory activity by competent authorities, which should provide certainty to issuers and confidence to investors, it is appropriate to specify the circumstances under which a competent authority may use such additional criteria, the type of additional information that competent authorities may require to be disclosed over and above the information that is required for drawing up a prospectus, an EU Follow-on prospectus or an EU Growth issuance prospectus, including the type of additional information that may be required to be disclosed under the additional criteria and the timeline for the approval of the prospectus.

[31] Peer review of the scrutiny and approval procedures of prospectuses by competent authorities of 21 July 2022 (ESMA42-111-7170).

(38b) In order to ensure that issuers are timely informed on the result of the scrutiny of their prospectus, competent authorities should be compelled to respect a clear deadline for their scrutiny. In the case of failure to take a decision on the prospectus within the set time limits, a competent authority should notify the relevant reason to the issuer, the offeror or the person asking for admission to trading on a regulated market as well as to ESMA, which should publish on yearly basis an aggregate report in compliance with the set time limits. Furthermore, Member States should ensure that appropriate measures are in place to address failure by competent authorities to comply with the set time limits to take a decision on the prospectus. However, such failure should not be deemed to constitute approval of the application.

(38c) In addition, a maximum timeframe should be set for finalising the scrutiny and for the competent authority's decision on the prospectus. Considering that the duration of the scrutiny procedure is influenced also by factors outside the control of the competent authority, the timeframe should be established as the maximum duration of the procedure overall, covering activities from both the person applying for approval of a prospectus and the competent authority. As it may be difficult to anticipate all situations where the scrutiny cannot be finalised within the set timeframe, it is important to specify the conditions for possible derogations from this timeframe. In addition, in the same way as for the time limits laid down in Article 20, a failure by the competent authority to take a decision on the prospectus within the maximum timeframe to be set should not be deemed to constitute approval of the prospectus. For the sake of legal clarity, the definition of "approval" should also clarify that it does not concern the accuracy of the information in a prospectus.

(39) ESMA's peer review of the scrutiny and approval of prospectuses by competent authorities was conducted and the peer review report was published prior to the Commission proposal for this amending Regulation. Considering that ESMA can conduct peer reviews at any time ESMA deems appropriate in accordance with Regulation (EU) No 1095/2010, it is not necessary to specify such a requirement in Regulation (EU) 2017/1129. Paragraph 13 of Article 20 of that Regulation, providing that ESMA should organise and conduct a peer review of the scrutiny and approval procedures of competent authorities, should therefore be removed.

(40) Article 21 of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 requires, for an IPO to the public of a class of shares that is admitted to trading on a regulated market for the first time, the publication of a prospectus at least 6 working days before the end of the offer. In order to foster swift book-building processes, especially in fast moving markets, and to increase the attractiveness of the inclusion of retail investors in such offers, the current minimum period of 6 days between the publication of the prospectus and the end of an offer of shares should be reduced, without affecting investor protection.

(41) In order to collect data that support the assessment of the EU Follow-on prospectus and the EU Growth issuance prospectus, the storage mechanism referred to in Article 21(6) of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 should cover both the EU Follow-on prospectus and the EU Growth issuance prospectus, which should be clearly differentiated from the other types of prospectuses.

(42) To make the distribution of the prospectus to investors more sustainable, to increase digitalisation in the financial sector and to remove unnecessary costs, investors should no longer be entitled to request a paper copy of a prospectus. A copy of the prospectus should therefore only be delivered to investors in electronic format, upon request and free of charge.

(43) Article 23(3) of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 requires financial intermediaries to inform investors who have purchased or subscribed securities through that financial intermediary of the possibility of a supplement being published and, under certain circumstances, to contact those investors on the day when a supplement is be published. Regulation (EU) 2021/337 introduced ▌ paragraphs 2a and 3a to that Article, which provide for a more proportionate regime to reduce burdens for financial intermediaries, while maintaining a high level of investor protection. Those paragraphs specify which investors should be contacted by financial intermediaries when a supplement is published and extended both the deadline by which those investors are to be contacted and the deadline for those investors to exercise their withdrawal rights. In addition, those paragraphs specify that financial intermediaries should contact investors who purchase or subscribe securities at the latest at the closing of the initial offer period. That period refers to the period during which issuers or offerors offer securities to the public as prescribed in the prospectus and excludes subsequent periods during which securities are resold on the market. The regime introduced by Article 23(2a) and (3a) of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 expired on 31 December 2022. Considering the overall positive stakeholders' feedback on that regime, it should be made permanent.

(44) Article 23(2a) and (3a) of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 extended the deadline to contact eligible investors about the publication of a supplement to the end of the first working day following that on which the supplement is published. To enable financial intermediaries to comply with that deadline, it is necessary to lay down that financial intermediaries will only have to inform those investors who agreed to be contacted by electronic means, for example by e-mail, about the publication of a supplement. Furthermore, financial intermediaries should offer investors that indicated their wish to be contacted only by other means than electronic ones an opt-in for electronic contact to receive the notification of the publication of a supplement. It is also necessary to oblige financial intermediaries to point out to investors that do not agree to be contacted by electronic means and refuse the opt-in for electronic contact that they can consult the issuer's or the financial intermediary's website where a supplement should be published.

(45) Diverging interpretations on whether an issuer should be allowed to supplement a base prospectus to introduce other securities or securities with different features than the ones for which that base prospectus has been approved have led to a lack of convergence between Member States. In order to ensure investor protection and foster regulatory convergence across the Union, it is therefore appropriate to lay down that a supplement to a base prospectus should not be used to introduce a new type of security for which the necessary information has not been included in that base prospectus unless to do so is necessary to comply with capital requirements under Union law or national law transposing Union law. Furthermore, to further foster convergence on the use of the base prospectus, ESMA should provide additional clarity by means of guidelines on the circumstances in which a supplement is to be considered to introduce a new type of security that is not already described in a base prospectus.

(46) Article 27 of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 requires issuers to produce translations of their prospectus to enable authorities and investors to appropriately scrutinise those prospectuses and to assess risks. In most cases, a translation must be provided in at least one of the official languages accepted by the competent authorities of each Member State where an offer is made or admission to trading is sought. To reduce unnecessary burdens significantly, companies should be allowed to draw up the prospectus in a language customary in the sphere of international finance, irrespective of whether the offer or admission to trading is domestic or cross border, while the translation requirement should be limited to the prospectus summary to ensure the protection of retail investors. However, a Member State should be allowed to opt out and require that the prospectus for an offer of securities to the public or an admission to trading on a regulated market which is sought only in that Member State is drawn up in a language accepted by the competent authority of that Member State. In such a case, that Member State should be required to notify the Commission and ESMA of that decision. To provide transparency to issuers and investors, ESMA should publish on its website a list of the languages accepted by the competent authorities of each Member State for an offer of securities to the public or an admission to trading on a regulated market which is sought only in that Member State.

(47) Article 29 of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 currently requires that third country prospectuses are approved by the competent authority of the home Member State of the issuer of the securities concerned, irrespective of whether those third country prospectuses have already been approved by the relevant third country authority. That Article also requires that the Commission adopts a decision stating that the information requirements imposed by the national law of such a third country are equivalent to the requirements under Regulation (EU) 2017/1129. To facilitate access of third country issuers, including SMEs, to public markets in the Union and provide investors in the Union with additional investment opportunities, while ensuring their protection, it is necessary to amend the provisions on the equivalence regime. It should be clarified that, in the case of an admission to trading on an EU regulated market, or of an offer of securities to the public in the Union, equivalent third country prospectuses that have already been approved by the third country supervisory authority, are only to be filed with the competent authority of the home Member State in the Union. Furthermore, the general equivalence criteria, which are currently to be based on the requirements laid down in Articles 6, 7, 8 and 13 of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129, should be expanded to encompass provisions on liability, validity of the prospectus, risk factors, scrutiny, approval and publication of the prospectus ▌ and supplements. To ensure the protection of investors in the Union, it is also necessary to specify that the third country prospectus is to entail all the rights and obligations provided for under Regulation (EU) 2017/1129. Third country issuers are also allowed to use the procedure under Article 28 of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 for any type of offers of securities to the public, by drawing up a prospectus in accordance with that Regulation.

(48) An effective cooperation with supervisory authorities of third countries concerning the exchange of information with those authorities and the enforcement of obligations arising under Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 in third countries is necessary to protect investors in the Union and ensure level playing field between issuers established in the Union and third country issuers. In order to ensure an efficient and consistent exchange of information with supervisory authorities, the competent authorities of the Member States or ESMA, upon request of at least one competent authority, should establish cooperation arrangements with the supervisory authorities of third countries concerned, and the Commission should be empowered to determine the minimum content and the template to be used for such arrangements. Furthermore, ESMA should facilitate the coordination of the development of cooperation arrangements between competent authorities and the relevant supervisory authorities of third countries and, where necessary, the distribution to competent authorities of the information obtained from supervisory authorities of third countries that may be relevant to take measures referred to under Articles 38 and 39 of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129. However, in order to ensure investor protection, it is necessary that third countries that are in the EU list of non-cooperative tax jurisdictions for tax purposes and the list of jurisdictions which have strategic deficiencies in their national anti-money laundering and in countering the financing of terrorism regimes that pose significant threats to the financial system of the Union should be excluded from such cooperation arrangements.

(49) It is necessary to ensure that the EU Follow-on prospectus, the EU Growth issuance prospectus and related prospectus summaries are subject to the same administrative sanctions and other administrative measures as other prospectuses. Those sanctions and measures should be effective, proportionate and dissuasive and ensure a common approach in Member States.

(50) Article 47 of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 requires ESMA to publish every year a report containing statistics on the prospectuses approved and notified in the Union and an analysis of trends. It is necessary to lay down that that report should also contain statistical information about the EU Growth issuance prospectuses, differentiated by types of issuers, and should analyse the usability of disclosure regimes applicable under the EU Follow-on prospectus, the EU Growth issuance prospectuses and the universal registration documents. That report should also analyse the new exemption for secondary issuances of securities fungible with securities already admitted to trading on a regulated market or on an SME growth market. Furthermore, that report should include, based on a report provided by ESMA to the Commission, an analysis of whether the scrutiny and approval procedures of competent authorities ensure supervisory convergence throughout the Union and remain appropriate in light of their pursued objectives. Finally, that report should include an analysis of whether the possibility for Member States to require national disclosures below the relevant exemption threshold of EUR 12 million or EUR 5 million for offer of securities to the public is conducive to converging national disclosure requirement and whether those national disclosures constitute an obstacle to the offer of securities to the public in those Member States.

(51) The Commission should, after an appropriate time period after the date of application of this amending Regulation, review the application of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 and assess in particular whether the provisions on the prospectus summary, on the disclosure regimes for the EU Follow-on prospectus, on the EU Growth issuance prospectus and on the universal registration document remain appropriate to meet the objectives pursued by those provisions. It is also necessary to lay down that that report should analyse the relevant data, trends and costs in relation to the EU Follow-on prospectus and the EU Growth issuance prospectus. In particular, that report should assess whether those new regimes strike a proper balance between investor protection and the reduction of administrative burdens Given the importance of ensuring that the CMU gathers momentum, and that it reflects market realities as soon as possible after they occur, the appropriate period for the conduct of such reviews by the Commission needs to be shorter than that which was the case prior to the adoption of this Regulation. The Commission should also assess whether further harmonisation of the provisions for prospectus liability is warranted and, if so, consider amendments to the liability provisions set out in this Regulation.

(52) Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 establishes a robust framework to preserve market integrity and investor confidence by preventing insider dealing, unlawful disclosure of inside information and market manipulation. It subjects issuers to several disclosure and record-keeping obligations and requires issuers to disclose inside information to the public. Six years after its entry into force, feedback from stakeholders collected in the context of public consultations and expert groups highlighted that some aspects of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 place a particularly high burden on issuers. It is therefore necessary to enhance legal clarity, address disproportionate requirements for issuers and increase the overall attractiveness of Union capital markets, while ensuring an appropriate level of investor protection and market integrity.

(53) Article 14 and 15 of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 prohibit insider dealing, the unlawful disclosure of inside information and market manipulation. Article 5 of that Regulation contains, however, an exception to those prohibitions for buy-back programmes and stabilisation. For a buy-back programme to benefit from that exemption, issuers are obliged to report to all the competent authorities of the trading venues on which the shares have been admitted to trading or are traded each transaction relating to the buy-back programme, including information specified in Regulation (EU) No 600/2014. In addition, issuers are obliged to subsequently disclose the trades to the public. Those obligations are overly cumbersome. It is therefore necessary to simplify the reporting procedure by requiring an issuer to report information on the buy-back programme transactions only to the competent authority of the most relevant market in terms of liquidity for its shares. It is also necessary to simplify the disclosure obligation by allowing an issuer to only disclose to the public aggregated information. The aggregated form should indicate the aggregated volume and the weighted average price per day and per trading venue.

(54) The definition in Article 7(1), point (d), of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 is too limited in that it only applies to persons charged with the execution of orders, whereas also other persons may be aware of a forthcoming order or transaction. That definition should therefore be expanded to also cover cases where information is passed by virtue of management of a proprietary account or of a managed fund, and in particular to cover all categories of persons that may be aware of a future order.

(55) According to Article 11(1) of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014, market sounding comprises the communication of information, prior to the announcement of a transaction, in order to gauge the interest of potential investors in a possible transaction and the conditions relating to it, such as its potential size or pricing, to one or more potential investors. Market sounding is an established practice which contributes to efficient capital markets. Market sounding may, however, require disclosure to potential investors of inside information and expose the parties involved to legal risks. The definition of market sounding should be broad in order to cater for the different typologies of soundings and different practices across the Union. The definition of market sounding should therefore also cover the communications of information not followed by any specific announcement, as also in that case inside information may be disclosed to potential investors and issuers should be able to benefit from the protection afforded by Article 11 of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014.

(56) Article 11(4) of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 provides that the disclosure of inside information in the course of a market sounding is deemed to be made in the normal exercise of a person's employment, profession or duties, and therefore does not constitute unlawful disclosure of inside information, where the disclosing market participant, in addition to the mandatory requirements laid down in Article 11(3) and in Article11(6), complies with the requirements laid down in Article 11(4) of that Regulation. In order to avoid an interpretation whereby disclosing market participants carrying out market sounding are obliged to comply with all the requirements set out in Article 11(4), of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014, it should be specified that the market sounding regime and the requirements in Article 11(4) are a mere option for the disclosing market participants to benefit from the protection from the allegation of unlawful disclosure of inside information. At the same time, while there should be no presumption that disclosing market participants that do not comply with the requirements set out in Article 11(4) of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 when conducting a market sounding have unlawfully disclosed inside information, those disclosing market participants should not be able to take advantage of the protection afforded to those that choose to comply with those requirements. To ensure the possibility for competent authorities to obtain an audit trail of a process that may imply disclosure of inside information to third parties, it should also be specified that the requirements set out in Article 11(3) and article 11 (6) of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 are mandatory for all disclosing market participants, regardless of whether the optional procedure in Article 11(4) of that Regulation is followed.

(57) Liquidity in an issuer's shares can be enhanced through liquidity provision activities, including market making arrangements or liquidity contracts. A market making arrangement comprises a contract between the market operator and a third party who commits to maintaining the liquidity in certain shares and, in return, benefits from rebates on trading fees. A liquidity contract comprises a contract between an issuer and a third party who commits to provide liquidity in the shares of the issuer, and on its behalf. Regulation (EU) No 2019/2115 introduced into Article 13 of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 the possibility for issuers of financial instruments admitted to trading on SME growth markets to enter into a liquidity contract with a liquidity provider, provided certain conditions are met. One of those conditions is that the market operator or the investment firm operating the SME growth market has acknowledged in writing to the issuer that it has received a copy of the liquidity contract and has agreed to that contract's terms and conditions. The operator of an SME growth market is, however, not a party to a liquidity contract and the requirement that such operator has agreed to the liquidity contract's terms and conditions leads to excessive complexity. In order to remove that complexity and to foster liquidity provisions on those SME growth markets, it is appropriate to remove the requirement for operators of SME growth markets to agree to the terms and conditions of liquidity contracts.

(58) The prohibition of insider dealing has the objective to prevent any possible exploitation of inside information and should apply as soon as that information is available. The requirement to disclose inside information aims, primarily, to enable investors to take well-informed decisions. When information is disclosed at a very early stage and is of a preliminary nature, it may mislead investors, rather than contribute to efficient price formation and address the information asymmetry. Therefore, in a protracted process, disclosure should not cover announcements of mere intentions, ongoing negotiations or, depending on the circumstances, progresses of negotiations (such as, a meeting between the companies' representatives). The issuer should only disclose the information related to the particular circumstances or the particular event that the protracted process intends to bring about or results in (final event), as soon as possible after such circumstances or event have occurred. For instance, in the case of a merger, disclosure should be made as soon as possible after the management ▌ has taken the decision to sign off on the merger agreement, once the core elements of the merger have been agreed upon. In general, for contractual agreements the event should be deemed to have occurred when the core conditions of that agreement have been agreed upon. In the case of non-protracted processes related to a one-off event or set of circumstances, notably when the occurrence of that event or set of circumstances does not depend on the issuer, the disclosure should take place as soon as the issuer becomes aware of that event or set of circumstances.

(59) The exact identification of the moment when an event becomes final is not always straightforward. In order to enable the issuer to identify the moment of disclosure of the relevant information, the Commission should be empowered to adopt a delegated act to set out a non-exhaustive list of final events in protracted processes which would trigger the obligation to disclose the information and, for each event, the moment when the event is deemed to have occurred.

(60) Issuers should ensure the confidentiality of information related to intermediate steps where the circumstances or event, that a protracted process intends to bring about, have not yet been disclosed. Once those circumstances or that event have been disclosed, the issuer should no longer be required to protect the confidentiality of the information related to intermediate steps.

(61) There may be cases when the issuer may need to postpone the disclosure of certain circumstances or events after they have occurred. Article 17(4) of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 provides that an issuer or an emission allowance market participant, may, on its own responsibility, delay disclosure to the public of inside information provided that specified conditions are met. Non-disclosure by an issuer of inside information related to intermediate steps in protracted processes should not be subject to the requirements provided for in Article 17(4) of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014.
To ensure legal certainty for the issuer or the emission allowance market participant and a consistent interpretation of the conditions to delay disclosure, it should be clarified when the delay may not be applied by direct reference to previous public statements or other types of communications by the issuer or the emission allowance market participant. In order to clarify in which cases delay of disclosure should not be allowed, the Commission should be empowered to adopt a delegated act to set out a non-exhaustive list of situations in which the inside information that the issuer or the emission allowance market participant intend to delay is in contrast with the latest public announcement or other type of communication by the issuer or emission allowance market participant on the same matter to which the inside information refers to.

(62) Article 18(1) of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 obliges issuers and any person acting on their behalf or on their account to draw up and to keep updated a list of all persons who have access to inside information and who are working for them under a contract of employment, or otherwise perform tasks through which they have access to inside information, including advisers, accountants and credit rating agencies. Article 18(6) of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014, however, restricts that obligation for issuers whose financial instruments are admitted to trading on an SME growth market. Those issuers are to include in their insider lists only those persons who, due to the nature of their function or position within the issuer, have regular access to inside information. ▌

(63) In some Member States, insider lists are considered particularly important for ensuring a high level of market integrity. For that reason, Article 18(6), second subparagraph, of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 allows Member States to require issuers on SME growth markets to draw up the more extensive insider lists that include all persons who have access to inside information, however, on the basis of an alleviated format, requiring less information. To avoid excessive regulatory burden, while maintaining the essential information for competent authorities to investigate market abuse breaches, such an alleviated format should be used for all insider lists. ▌

(64) Article 19 of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 provides for preventive measures against market abuse and, more specifically, insider dealing, concerning persons discharging managerial responsibilities and persons closely associated with them. Such measures range from notification of transactions carried out on financial instruments of the relevant issuer to the prohibition to conduct transactions on such instruments in certain defined periods. In particular, Article 19(8) of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 provides that persons discharging managerial responsibilities have to notify the issuer and the competent authority where those persons have transactions reaching the threshold of EUR 5 000 in a calendar year, as well as any subsequent transaction in the same year. The notifications concern, as regards issuers, transactions conducted by persons discharging managerial responsibilities or persons closely associated with them on their own account relating either to the shares or debt instruments of that issuer, or to derivatives or other financial instruments linked thereto. In addition to the EUR 5 000 threshold, Article 19(9) of Regulation (EU) No 596/201 provides that competent authorities may decide to increase the threshold to EUR 20 000.

(65) In order to avoid an undue requirement for persons discharging managerial responsibilities to report and for companies to disclose transactions which would not be meaningful to investors, it is appropriate to raise the threshold for reporting and related disclosure from EUR 5 000 to EUR 20 000. At the same time competent authorities should be given flexibility to increase that threshold to EUR 50 000 or to decrease it to EUR 10 000, where justified in light of national market conditions.

(66) Article 19(11) of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 prohibits persons discharging managerial responsibilities to trade, during a period of 30 calendar days before their company's financial reporting (closed period), shares or debt instruments of the issuer or derivatives or other financial instruments linked to them, unless the issuer gives his or her consent and specific circumstances are met. That exemption from the closed period requirement currently includes employee shares or saving schemes as well as qualifications or entitlement of shares. In order to promote consistency of rules across different asset classes that exemption should be expanded to include among the exempted employees' schemes those concerning financial instruments other than shares and also to cover the qualification or entitlement of instruments other than shares.

(67) Certain transactions or activities carried out by the person discharging managerial responsibilities during the closed period may relate to irrevocable arrangements entered into outside of a closed period. Those transactions or activities may also result from a discretionary asset management mandate executed by an independent third party under a discretionary asset management mandate. Such transactions or activities may also be the consequence of duly authorised corporate actions not implying advantageous treatment for the person discharging managerial responsibilities. Furthermore, those transactions or activities may be the consequence of the acceptance of inheritances, gifts and donations, or the exercise of options, futures, or other derivatives agreed outside the closed period. All such activities and transactions, do not, in principle, involve active investment decisions by the persons discharging managerial responsibilities. Prohibiting such transactions or activities throughout the closed period would excessively restrict the freedom of persons discharging managerial responsibilities, as there is no risk that they will benefit from an informational advantage. In order to ensure that the prohibition to trade in closed period applies only to transactions or activities that depend on the wilful investment activity of the person discharging managerial responsibilities, that prohibition should not cover transactions or activities that depend exclusively on external factors or that do not involve active investment decisions by the persons discharging managerial responsibilities ▌

(68) The increasing integration of markets heightens the risk of cross-border market abuses. To protect market integrity, competent authorities should cooperate in a swift and timely manner, also with ESMA. To strengthen such cooperation, ESMA should be able to act at the initiative of one or more competent authorities to facilitate the collaboration of competent authorities with a possibility to coordinate the investigation or inspection that has cross-border effect. Collaboration platforms established by the European Insurance and Occupational Pensions Authority have proven to be useful as a supervisory tool to strengthen the exchange of information and to enhance collaboration among authorities. It is therefore appropriate to introduce the possibility also for ESMA to, at the initiative of one or more competent authorities, set up and coordinate such platforms in the field of securities markets when there are concerns about market integrity or the good functioning of markets. Considering the strong relations between financial and spot markets, ESMA should also, at the initiative of one or more competent authorities, be able to set up such platforms with public bodies monitoring wholesale commodity markets as well, including the Agency for the Cooperation of Energy Regulators (ACER), when such concerns affect both financial and spot markets.

(69) The monitoring of order ▌ data is crucial for the surveillance of market activity. Competent authorities should therefore have easy access to data that they need for their supervisory activity. Some of those data concern instruments that are traded in a trading venue located in another Member State. To enhance the effectiveness of supervision, competent authorities should set up a mechanism to exchange order data on an ongoing basis. Considering its technical expertise, ESMA should draft implementing technical standards specifying the arrangements required by that mechanism for the exchange of order data among competent authorities. To ensure that the scope of that mechanism for exchanging order data is proportionate in relation to its use, only competent authorities that supervise markets that have a high level of cross-border activity should be obliged to participate to that mechanism. Member States whose competent authorities would have an interest to take part in the mechanism on a voluntary basis should be able to apply the same provisions and contribute to the funding of the mechanism. ESMA has demonstrated its expertise in setting up data exchange hubs, such as the exchange of transaction reporting data through the proven implementation of TREM or EMIR data access under TRACE. Therefore, participating competent authorities should be able to set up this new mechanism to exchange order data by delegating the project development to ESMA.

The list of trading venues that have a significant cross-border dimension should be determined by the Commission in a delegated act by taking into account for each class of financial instruments at least the trading volume on that trading venue as well as the trading volume on that trading venue in financial instruments for which the competent authority of the most relevant market differs from the competent authority of that trading venue. In order to provide legal certainty and not to delay the implementation of the mechanism, the criteria for the determination of trading venues with a significant cross-border dimension should be set in this regulation with specific thresholds set for shares. However, to ensure the criteria remain workable and flexible enough to take into account the developments of financial markets and the need for effective supervision, the Commission should be empowered to adapt over time these thresholds by means of a delegated act, while ensuring proportionality, and to ask ESMA an opinion on the calibration of thresholds. Furthermore, that mechanism for exchanging order data should at first only concern shares, before being extended to bonds and futures, considering the relevance of those financial instruments in terms of both cross-border trading and market manipulation. However, to ensure that such mechanism for exchanging order data reflects developments in financial markets and the capacity of competent authorities to process new data, the Commission should be empowered to further broaden the scope of instruments the order data of which can be exchanged through that mechanism and potentially postpone the inclusion of bonds and futures, taking into account ESMA's analysis of the deployment of the mechanism, particularly in terms of costs.

(70) To enhance the monitoring of orders through technological developments and reinforce market integrity, competent authorities should be able to access order data not only on an ad-hoc request, but also on an ongoing basis. Moreover, to facilitate the processing of order data by national competent authorities, it is necessary to harmonise the format of such data

(71) ▌ The risk of inadvertent breach of disclosure requirements under Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 and associated administrative sanctions are an important factor that dissuades companies from seeking admission to trading. To avoid an excessive burden on companies, in particular SMEs, including micro-sized enterprises, the final amount of sanctions for infringements committed by legal persons in relation to disclosure requirements should be proportionate to the size of the company Points (j)(iii) and (iv) of Article 30(2) of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 establish a minimum of the maximum amount of the sanctions that can be imposed by a national competent authority in an infringement related to the disclosure regime. To ensure proportionality, such amounts should be determined, as a general rule, based on the total annual turnover of the company. Nevertheless, where by applying the maximum established in national law based on the total annual turnover, the final amount of the sanction imposed would be disproportionately low in light of the circumstances set out in Article 31 of Regulation (EU) No 596/2014, Member States should ensure that national competent authorities may increase the final amount of sanctions, by taking into account the maximum established in national law, as expressed in absolute amounts. In those cases, it is also appropriate to allow each Member state in its national law to apply a lower the maximum level of sanctions for SMEs, as expressed in absolute amounts, as a way to ensure their proportionate treatment. Nevertheless, a Member State should be allowed to establish in its national law the same maximum as expressed in absolute amounts for all types of issuers.

(72) Regulations (EU) No 596/2014, (EU) No 600/2014 and (EU) 2017/1129 should therefore be amended accordingly.

(73) When processing personal data within the framework of this Regulation (EU) No 596/2014, competent authorities should comply with Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council[32]. With regard to the processing of personal data by ESMA within the framework of that Regulation, ESMA should comply with the Regulation (EU) No 2018/1725 of the European Parliament and of the Council[33]. In particular, ESMA and national competent authorities should keep personal data for no longer than is necessary for the purposes for which the personal data are processed ▌

[32] Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation) (OJ L 119 4.5.2016, p. 1).

[33] Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 23 October 2018 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data by the Union institutions, bodies, offices and agencies and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Regulation (EC) No 45/2001 and Decision No 1247/2002/EC (OJ L 295, 21.11.2018, p. 39).

(74) In order to specify the requirements set out in this Regulation, in accordance with its objectives, the power to adopt acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union should be delegated to the Commission in respect of revising the format and content of the prospectus, specifying the reduced content and the standardised format and sequence for the EU Follow-on prospectus and the EU Growth issuance prospectus, fostering convergence in the scrutiny and approval of the prospectus by competent authorities, further specifying general equivalence criteria for prospectuses drawn up by third country issuers, determining the minimum content of cooperation arrangements between competent authorities or, where requested by at least one of those authorities, ESMA and third country supervisory authorities, pursuant to Regulation (EU) 2017/1129, as well as expanding the list of financial instruments to enable competent authorities to obtain order data, and reviewing the calibration of the thresholds to determine the list of markets with a significant cross-border dimension in shares, pursuant to Regulation (EU) No 596/2014. It is of particular importance that the Commission carry out appropriate consultations during its preparatory work, including at expert level, and that those consultations be conducted in accordance with the principles laid down in the Interinstitutional Agreement of 13 April 2016 on Better Law-Making[1]. In particular, to ensure equal participation in the preparation of delegated acts, the European Parliament and the Council receive all documents at the same time as Member States' experts, and their experts systematically have access to meetings of Commission expert groups dealing with the preparation of delegated acts.

(75) Since the objectives of this Regulation cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States, as the measures introduced require full harmonisation across the Union, but can rather, by reason of scale and effects be better achieved at Union level, the Union may adopt measures, in accordance with the principle of subsidiarity as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty on European Union. In accordance with the principle of proportionality as set out in that Article, this Regulation does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve those objectives,
